Self-Governance

Directions  Self-governance integrates self-reliance and moderation. What relationship do you see between individual self-governance and political self-government? In what ways can you govern yourself to ensure the success of American self-government?

“Moderation in temper is always a virtue; but moderation in principle is always a vice.”
–THOMAS PAINE